

5. Diagnose

APIs in the Diagnose section are meant to extract information from the system about its use or performance. Three types of API can help you retrieve system information: